You actually opened a pretty serious dialogue between Phil and I and progress is being made. Haha. So maybe by the next time you're in Phoenix he'll be okay with it :p

Having seen you defend your opinions and interact with people for a night, I can confidently say you will make an excellent president of the group next year. I also said I'd send you something inappropriate later. I'll confine that to just demurely saying now that if ever you are free or can convince Phil to go for it, I'd love to. You are really exciting and beautiful. Make sure Phil keeps on respecting that.  Otherwise I'll conclude my flirting with that. Great meeting you! Go forth, take charge, and kick ass!
